Presidents'
Message

Good Day All,

Another couple of months have gone by since our last newsletter, and some of us have had adventures during that time.

Our chapter put on an outstanding Malibu Day Drive, followed by a special 60th Birthday Party, and of course August in the Monterey area had a lot of great events.

Our Competition group provided a valuable Driving School on September 10 and 11, and later offered another Time Trial/Race Weekend on October 8 and 9; both were at our home track, Willow Springs International Raceway.

AROSC's 60th Birthday party was a fabulous celebration of our chapter's glorious history. Huge thanks to Norm and Evelyn Silverman for planning and hosting our premier 2022 event! See more starting on page 12.

And, another of Evie's successes was her annual Welcome

more on 2

Dinner during Monterey Car Week. It was not only well-attended, it was fun! See the December Alfa Owner for compliments from AROC.

In mid-September Steve and Jeff created a morning drive that ended at the Mullin Museum in Oxnard. This was followed by a lovely reception at Mike and Chris's home in Camarillo. Recap begins on page 6.

The most amazing party in Southern California was November 6, at Woodley Park - The Best of France and Italy show. We'll have lots of photos and a 2nd Alfa Italia People's Choice winner to announce in the January-February issue.

The AROSC Board of Directors election is under way right now and we hope you'll be sending your ballots in by November 10th.

On Sunday, November 20 your Board of Directors will meet via Zoom to plan our fun activities for 2023. What would you like to do with your Alfa in 2023? Could we get some suggestions, either by email (info@arosc.org), or by attending the meeting? When would you like the next Concorso? What other collection, shop or museum visits could we do? Your suggestions are valued!

Our annual Holiday Party will again be hosted by MJ and

Also in this newsletter is the return of "The Tech Guy", the popular column by longtime member Gene Brown. Do you have questions for him? Please send them to alfagene@att.net, and we'll publish his answers!

Did you know that there is an Alfa Romeo Tonale website with lots information, including how to reserve one? Take a look at <https://www.alfaromeous.com/tonale>. There are also useful details about the current models, even with access to an online Owners Manual.

AROSC is pleased and gratified to see our roster continue to grow and refresh each month. Check out the Members' Page to see who is new and has renewed

Come drive with us, and ciao for now!

A Fall Fling Mountains, Museum and More Tour

Our September 17th AROSC Mountains, Museum and More Tour was a day with several options to enjoy the road, automotive history and camaraderie.

Those who participated in the driving tour to the Mullin Automotive Museum gathered early at the Australian influenced Blueys Market and Café in Santa Monica.

After a bite of breakfast, the group headed off on a two-hour drive to conquer the twisty scenic roads of the Santa Monica mountains. Peter Pavia and new-since-May member Daniel Frank both brought their '74 GTVs, with Daniel accompanying the other cars for the first half of the drive.

The driving tour met up with other club members who had come directly to the museum and we combined forces forming a group of 30 AROSC Alfsiti.

We toured Peter Mullin's extensive collection of French vehicles which includes the largest private collection of Bugatti automobiles in the world, along with French art, sculpture, furniture (many pieces also designed and built by one or another member of the Bugatti family) and artifacts.

After enjoying the museum, we migrated to the home of Chris Burke and Mike Riehle in Camarillo to enjoy a perfect late-summer afternoon in their beautiful backyard, socializing and catching up with old friends over pizza, snacks and drinks.

The Tech Guy

by Gene Brown

Ups & Downs

I have had my Montreal for more than 22 years now, and one thing that has always bothered me is how slow the power windows operate. As another owner has said, "If you want the windows down in the afternoon you better start in the morning."

Over the years I have tried various things to make them faster. In every case I needed to get to the window mechanism, which anyone can tell you is not one of the more pleasant Alfa repair experiences.

I first tried cleaning and lubricating all of the pulleys, cleaned and greased the cable and regreased the motor gears. These attempts produced maybe a little improvement, but not much. Over the next few tries I replaced the felt runners for the window, the rubber seal on the outside of the window, and even put in a new cable and tried a new motor. I found it to be very frustrating. The fact that I could put up with the slowness combined with the difficulty of working on the windows meant that I spread these attempts over many years.

However, there were some positive aspects to this travail. I 3D printed a slip-on cover to hold the cable to the drum while reinstalling the mechanism, which made removal and installation much easier.

In the end I determined that the problem was not mechanical. That just left electrical in my chain of deduction. I noticed that I was only getting about eight volts to the window motor instead of the 12 volts I would expect.

The schematic between the battery and ground showed the window circuit has 18 connections. There are all 50-year-old connections. Now I could get out some contact cleaner and attempt to clean all of these contacts, which would require tearing into the wiring harness. Instead, I gave it some thought, and making use of a connector for the windows in the footwell I installed a relay module so that the battery power would go from the fuse box through the relays and directly to the motors. I moved a couple of wires around on the window switch so that now the switch just controls the relays and with that low current, the voltage drop through the wiring harness becomes insignificant.

The result? The windows go up and down in less than seven seconds. Success!!

In my first try at recreating the module, I used some relays and sockets I bought. It worked but was not very nice looking. I then made up a printed circuit board with bus bars for the high current runs and a 3D printed cover. It mounts nicely in the footwells and is very neat looking.

Alfa should have done this from the beginning.

Summer Party Memories

- the coolest 60th ! -

Here are more memories of our super 60th, the Summer Party to commemorate the Chapter's founding.

We had some new faces and plenty of familiar ones under the umbrellas in the Silverman's Chatsworth back garden to enjoy Epic Tacos tacos, quesadillas, salsa and sides. We wore our party hats and raised a rose-gold sparkled Proresso flute to our good fortune to be together and to our dearly departed Mary Blankenship.

Clockwise from top: The Toast! Susan and Cindy arrive. Jim and Mike lead the parade of presidents (We had two more besides them: John Ireland and Norm Silverman). It was Mary Ann's first AROSC Summer Party. La Copresidenta cuts the birthday cake!

Here's to 60 more years!

Clockwise from top left: the Silverman's back garden was the perfect venue. Norm displays the 60th Anniversary shirt; Epic Taco chefs cooked up a storm. David, Steve and Jon discuss; Chuck and Chuck compare images; Sheila and Susan catch up; MJ, Gene, Erwin and Mario found shade.

Oh! The auction!
John explains the value of the bottle Jeff is holding; Steve, Pat, Cindy and Jayne are impressed by how Jeff managed to sell everything on the table!

Mille Grazie to our volunteer Alfacionada contributors whose words and photography helped bring this November-December 2022 newsletter into focus: David Waelder, Steve Edelman, David Gooley, CaliPhotography.com, Joli Ling-Tsai, Jim & Elyse Barrett.
